

Designation Standards

In order to be designated, the building, object, or site must be at least 25 years old and must meet at least one of the six standards for designation outlined in the Seattle Landmarks Preservation Ordinance (SMC 25.12.350):

- a) It is the location of, or is associated in a significant way with, a historic event with a significant effect upon the community, City, state, or nation; or
- b) It is associated in a significant way with the life of a person important in the history of the City, state, or nation; or
- c) It is associated in a significant way with a significant aspect of the cultural, political, or economic heritage of the community, City, state or nation; or
- d) It embodies the distinctive visible characteristics of an architectural style, or period, or a method of construction; or
- e) It is an outstanding work of a designer or builder; or
- f) Because of its prominence of spatial location, contrasts of siting, age, or scale, it is an easily identifiable visual feature of its neighborhood or the city and contributes to the distinctive quality or identity of such neighborhood or the City.

In addition to meeting at least one of the above standards, the object, site, or improvement must also possess integrity or the ability to convey its significance.

VOTE FOR YOUR FAVORITE SEATTLE LANDMARK

APRIL 15 - MAY 12!

Horiuchi Mural

Seattle Center

Commissioned for the 1962 World's Fair and designed by Paul Horiuchi, the Horiuchi Mural sits under the Space Needle on the Seattle Center campus.

Partners in Preservation, a partnership of American Express and the National Trust for Historic Preservation, has pledged $1 million to preserve historic places in the Seattle/Puget Sound region. Be sure to vote online from April 15 - May 12 for the places you would like to receive funding. Of the 25 projects identified, 6 are City of Seattle Landmarks, and the King Street Station is located in the Pioneer Square Preservation District.

Japanese Cultural & Community Center

1414 S. Weller St.

The Japanese Cultural & Community Center has served Seattle's Japanese community, from the first immigrants to those living here today.

Naval Reserve Armory-MOHAI

860 Terry Ave. N.

Prominently located on the south shore of Lake Union, this WWII era building served as a Navy training facility for over fifty years.

University Heights Community Center

5031 University Way NE

One of Seattle's oldest school buildings, this 1908 Mission Revival style building is now an active community center.

Tugboat Arthur Foss

860 Terry Ave. N

Tugboat Arthur Foss is a rare survivor of the wooden tugboat fleet that allowed shipping to flourish in the early 20th century. It is moored in Lake Union.

Washington Hall

153 14th Ave.

First built as a fraternal hall in 1908, Washington Hall grew to become Seattle's most historically diverse performance hall and social center.
